TELSTAR IS 7-6 WINNER IN FRIDAY GRID CONTEST

Telstar Regional High School defeated Livermore Falls, 7-6 Friday night in a hard fought, well played Mountain Valley Conference football game before an estimated 1,100 fans at Livermore Falls. A place kick by Olson in the third period proved to be the winning margin in the evenly fought duel.

The Andies made a bid for victory with a fourth period surge which ended on the Rebels two to a third down fumble which the winners recovered.

Livermore Falls got on the scoreboard first with a 58-yard march in the second quarter which ended when Gary Hanson plunged over from the one. The pass for the conversion failed.

Telstar went 43 yards with its touchdown drive and Peter Blake carried over from the one on a "keeper" to set the stage for Olson's decision.

Hanson picked up more than 100 yards rushing to power the Andies offense and linebacker Duane Raymond was the defensive stand-out for Livermore Falls. Wayne Cummings carried the offensive load for Telstar and the Rebels entire secondary turned in a fine defensive performance.

Telstar's Rebels will entertain Monmouth Academy in Saturday afternoon action this week at 1:30.

TO SERVE COLONIAL SILVER TEA AT Bethel's Second Home Coming, Saturday, Sept. 30

On Saturday, Sept. 30, from 1 to 4 p. m. there will be a colonial silver tea, for the benefit of the Bethel Historical Society, at the Conrad Home (formerly the Edwards Homestead).

The Edwards Homestead was the first house in Bethel to be wired for electricity. The house was built by N. R. Springer in 1908, who at that time owned and operated the mill, now owned by Hanover Dowdell Co., and the electricity for the house came from the Springer Mill.

Hostesses for the tea are Beatrice Conrad, chairman; Helen Varner, Maxine Brown, Florence Hastings. Potpourri: coffee—Doris Lord; tea—Julia Brown.

All the business firms in town and various organizations and churches, are joining in on this day to offer different types of entertainment. There will also be an art show, several antique displays, handcraft booths, refreshment booths, antique autos and special sales in the stores.

General Chairman of the Home Coming Day, Edward Quinn; Steve Wright, assistant chairman; Elizabeth Mason Carter, Barbara Merrill, George Burnham Morrill.

Come one, come all and join with the 4th Railroad Club of Portland as they visit Bethel on Sept. 30.

COMMENTS FROM THE OFFICE OF THE TOWN MANAGER

The remains of the Hearthstone House are being removed this week. After the debris is hauled away fill will be placed in the cellar to prevent a vehicle from dropping directly into the hole in case one should leave the highway at this location.

At this time, due to confusion over ownership, it appears the town will have to bear the cost of cleaning the area. Our attorney was able to obtain permission from interested parties for us to do the work but it is doubtful if we can recover the cost.

The large cylinder type objects that were delivered at various locations this week are the injector stations which will be buried in the ground. These stations will serve to pump sewage from lower elevations to a point where gravity will take the waste to the plant site.

Taxes received Sept. 1 amounted to 50% of the total commitment for 1972. We received 46% in 1971 prior to the same date.

S. A. D. 44 BOARD HOLD REGULAR MEETING MONDAY

The board of directors of S. A. D. 44 met in regular session at Telstar Regional High School on Monday evening of this week.

Basil Kinney, S. A. D. 44 superintendent, introduced Mrs. Loretta Merrill as a new member of the board. Mrs. Merrill was appointed to the panel by the Bethel selectmen to succeed William Cousins who resigned. She will serve until the annual town meeting in March. At that time the voters will elect a director to serve the one year re-training of the term.

An executive session of one hour 25 minutes duration was held for a hearing on a grievance presented by the S. A. D. 44 Education Association. Grievance hearings, under provisions of the comprehensive agreement between the board and the association, are required to be held in executive session. The point at issue concerned the salary of a certified staff member of the district. Following the executive session the board denied the relief requested by the aggrieved.

Win Partridge of Goodwin's Inc., Norway, explained the coverage that was available in Board of Education Indemnity Insurance. Board members will be supplied with a copy of the provisions of such coverage before a determination of whether or not it should or should not be secured.

The board approved the creation of the position of assistant drama coach at Telstar Regional High School. Further arrangements for the position were then informally delegated to the board's personnel committee. Mrs. Helen Berry, drama coach, expressed her belief that such a position was needed as did several board members and Telstar students present.

The board voted to designate Thursday, Oct. 5, as a staff in-service workshop day. Students will not attend school on that day, nor on Friday, Oct. 6, which was already on the school calendar as set aside for teachers' convention.

By action of the directors, Gad Cons International will be permitted to make New Testaments available to grade five students in the district's schools.

The following extra duty appointments were made by the board: Mrs. Helen Berry, drama coach; Rodney Abbott, literary advisor, school newspaper; Telstar; David Trapp, production advisor, school newspaper; Telstar; Mrs. Marjorie Thayer, David Trapp, Rich and Prescott, yearbook advisors; Telstar.

The board approved the following as post graduate students at Telstar: Sue Sumner, Barry Newell, and Albert White.

Free admission to athletic contests at home for S. A. D. 44 students in kindergarten through grade six when accompanied by an adult was approved by the board. Reasonable charges for admission charges to be made and cost and arrangement for group tickets, passes etc., was approved.

SENATOR SMITH TO VISIT BETHEL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

There will be a special meeting on Monday, Sept. 25, at 7 p. m. at the Fire Station.

Delegated to Brian Flynn, Telstar principal.

Edna Snyder, Andover, board chairman, announced the appointment of John Brown of Bethel to fill the vacancy on the personnel committee created by the resignation of William Conant and to serve as chairman of that committee.

There was discussion concerning the use of the Andover School by sewing classes, arrangements for a flag pole and a small sign at Andover, and accordingly to a telephone for students returning to Telstar to bring extra-curricular activities.

Board members not present at the Monday meeting were: Charles Houghton, Bethel; Paul Wright, Newry; M. Parker Allen, and M. L. M. Woodcock.

The next regular meeting of the S. A. D. 44 board is scheduled for Monday, Oct. 2.

GUTTED REMAINS REMOVED—

On Wednesday of this week the remainder of the structure ruined by fire in the early morning hours of Feb. 23, was being cleaned up by a P. H. Chadbourne Co. crew. Recently the quarters of the Hearthstone House of fine furniture, the building was briefly occupied by the studio of the Children's Dance Theater immediately preceding the fire.

It is understood that the nearly seven month delay in cleaning up the site was in part due to legal considerations. Having won an "easement" adjacent to one of the heavily travelled highways of the town was the cause of some confusion during the summer tourist season.

GREENWOOD CITY

— Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres. —

One perfect day in September can compensate for days of bad weather. We have had several of those when the humidity was low and there was a hint of a cool edged breeze from the west.

The hulkops now catch the first ray of light as daylight comes more slowly.

It is a time when goldfinches rock leisurely over the fields and the crickets fiddle unhurriedly in the warmth of a sunny day. I like them outside but am not partial to the small black spruce inside.

On these September days, if you lift your eyes to the hills you can see that they are preparing for fall.

There are aurora clumps on the ledged hillsides or along the old country lanes. These and the back trails furnish nature's appealing pictures. Some of us somehow appreciate the small and familiar more than the grand and awesome. The blue cloud patched sky is a lovely back ground for granite-topped ridges, spruces, pines, hemlocks and birches.

On a morning which promised to be good Ruth and I set out for a hilly trail. However, it rained some time before we arrived at our starting point. Then as we stopped by a little pond the rain ended. The haze of the mountains was being wiped away as if by a sponge. So we looked around, found an interesting trail and set out. We were not in a hurry. We walked slowly intending to see as much as we could of our new surroundings. A wonderful expansion of evergreens everywhere and we pictured them a little later with flaming leaves, dazzling in their scarlet and orange, with occasional accents of tall pine or coned spruce spiraling wild cedar.

We did not search for any special sound but assorted voices crowded upon us: water dripping, rivulets singing, the fresh breeze through the trees, and the odor of the rain washed forest. From the forest floor there grew young green ferns and blankets of moss.

A squirrel ran unconcerned across our path. The blue jay could be heard in the distance. Nothing seemed to disturb these creatures in their forest home.

It was easy to get the sensation of being lost or isolated, in a world where sounds come from everywhere.

A sudden noise came to us from our left. I felt hurrying, a big black dog ran on by us taking more than his share of the trail. He became our companion for the way and the day.

From our many lakes we have learned that water is one of the hazards of a lake. It can't be because we must ford streams but the water on the trail itself. It makes and children rocks, moss, or logs that lie in the way, and keep us Foy Holt made them a beautiful ever alert. We have learned to stop carefully, watch for sandy surfaces where skidding is easy, and for protruding roots where we may catch a toe.

We came to a fork in the trail and decided to keep left toward a falls called Hermit, 1/4 mile.

Our appetite told us that it had been a long time since our first meal of the day. Time had flown rapidly and we thought that for hungry hikers, scenery would be better combined with food. We sat at the base of high, moss and fern covered rocks where the water pleasantly trickled in places, and ran in others.

When we opened our lunches "our" dog settled between us looking first to the right then to the left waiting for his share of the lunches. We did give him some in spite of the fact we hadn't planned on this third and big appetite.

We then took the trail to the top of the falls which ended there. Down the hill again we went toward the car. Blackie still stayed near. The trail unraveled beneath our feet and the wilderness once more unfolded before us.

Again at the pond, the curves and contours of the mountains stood out sharply. I suppose people love mountains for different reasons: to study, to measure, to observe or look at, or to walk among. We like them for the pure joy of them as they stand toe to toe.

Our dog wished for a ride but we had to leave him hoping that he would find his way home as we did ours.

Our community was saddened on Monday by the sudden death of Ben Homans who has been our summer neighbor for several years. He was a neighbor in the broadest sense of the word, quick to respond to the distress of any or all and the first with a smile to share good news. He made friends easily and all the neighborhood will miss him. To his family, his friends, and saddened neighbors this fine man will be more than a living memory.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Hayes and Elmer Hayes were in Waterville on Thursday to see an eye specialist. On Wednesday they were at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ardell Hayes in Auburn.

Mildred Bowman, Hebron, has been visiting Dorothy Curtis for a few days.

David Holt has entered U. of M. Orono, starting his year on Monday, Sept. 18. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonas Holt took him there on Sunday.

Marcia Benson, West Paris, called on Ann Holt on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Morris celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on September 14. The neighborhood remembered them with gifts and a purse of money that he is the way, and keep us Foy Holt made them a beautiful

TELESTAR R. H. S. NEWS EAST BETHEL

STUDENT COUNCIL Optimism

This week finds the Telestar Red-cls feeling happy and mighty. One might expect such things from a school where all three variety sports are undefeated so far, and to celebrate the Senior class is sponsoring a victory dance this Saturday night.

All organizations are planning activities enough to fill the calendar twice. The drama club, bands, and choruses are beginning to prepare for their big productions, clubs are rolling towards a good year, the National Honor Society is raising scholarship money, and the Student Council is offering its helping hand to any who may need it.

The new Student Council president, Randy Littlefield, is spurring us on to bigger and better things with one eye on good ideas from previous years and the other on fresh innovations to come. I, as you can see, am optimistic that the year will be nothing less than the greatest ever for Telestar.—Mike Davis

BROWN - GREEN

Saturday, September 9, the Sandgate Methodist Church, Sandgate, Vt., was the scene of the marriage between Patricia Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Green of Kingston, Pa., and Corey W. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Brown, Bethel. The Rev. John Grey, East Arlington, Vt., performed the double ring ceremony on the lawn beside the church.

Given in marriage by her mother and father, the bride wore an empire gown of organza accented with pink ribbon work and smocking on the lantern sleeves, yoke and hem. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and pink baby orchids. Her attendant, Miss Kathleen Anthony of Kingston, Pa., and Boston, Mass., wore a floor length gown of silk jersey knit in red and white stripes with a blue bodice. Her cascade bouquet was fashioned of red and white carnations.

Carrages of yellow orchids were presented to the bride's mother, who wore a floor length dress of huge eyelet lace, and the mother of the groom who chose an ecru lace pants dress. Yellow orchid carrages were also worn by the attending grandmothers, Mrs. Michael Hancey, the bride's grandmother, and Mrs. John Sweeney, grandmother of the groom.

Groomsmen were Thomas Fallow of Boston, Mass. He also proposed the marriage toast at the champagne supper for the forty invited guests which immediately followed the ceremony.

Following a week's stay in Arlington, Vt., Mr. and Mrs. Brown are now at home at 20 Preble Street, Gorham, Maine.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY MEETS

Mrs. Ernest Holt, Trustee; John T. Grover for three years; Mrs. Rosalind Chapman for two years, at a meeting directly following this election. Mrs. Elizabeth Mason Carter, who is serving her third year as trustee, was elected chairman; vice-chairman, Mrs. Rosalind Chapman.

Plans for the upcoming Second Homecoming to be held Sept. 30 were discussed. Anyone who would like to participate in any way to make this a success, is invited to contact Ed Quinn. People are now planning their booths—food and exhibits to be put up by their own arrangements on Main Street and Railroad Street. Various organizations are planning food concessions, to serve the 470 Railroad group arriving on a special tour, and to spend two or three hours in town.

The Historical Society will have some special items for sale to commemorate this event — including small trays bearing a picture of a locomotive, and maps of early Bethel, as well as tiles picturing the Androscoggin covered bridge.

The officers and trustees studied the latest blueprints on the Dr. Moses Mason house restoration, the target date for its completion being June 1973.

Members are very interested in hearing from Bethel people who might wish to donate furnishings suitable for parlor, kitchen and bedrooms. This home was never luxuriously furnished, but a comfortable Federal type house (built 1813-1815). Any gifts offered will receive consideration by a special committee, as to suitability. The House will have space for display of special exhibits—both local and otherwise when it is opened.

The membership drive headed by Guy P. Butler, has begun, and the committee has met twice to formulate plans and report. It is intended that before this is completed, that every business, professional person or firm, as well as all individuals be contacted; the response thus far is excellent.

It was announced that the annual meeting of the Maine League of Historical Societies to which the Bethel society belongs would be held at Shaffer Theater, Bates College, Sept. 16. Mrs. Elizabeth Carter and Mrs. Christine Grover attended this, and a report has been given the League president for inclusion in the next issue of the Maine History News, the voice of the some 127 Historical Societies and Museums which constitute the League. At this meeting Marius Peladeau was introduced as Project Coordinator, his employment having been made possible by a special grant through Maine Arts and Humanities. Mr. Peladeau will be available to consult with each socety on any problem from involving whole community in the society activities to how to operate a museum. Mrs. Shirley Thayer of the Maine State Library reported that they have available histories, genealogies, town and county and State records not only of Maine but New England, which can be used to aid in society research projects. Dr. Edward D. Ives, better known as "Sandy," Maine expert on folksong and folklore, spoke on Oral History and the availability of help through the special Northeast Folklore Laboratory he has set up at the U. of M.-Orono, to aid in recording Maine history.

The meeting was conducted by Dr. William B. Miller (Colby College), president, and other speakers were Mrs. Sylvia Sherman, Maine Archives, and Mrs. Doris Isaacson, Editor Maine History News, Richard Collins, Maine Arts and Humanities Director, Miss Joan Radcliffe, State Museum, and James Mundy, Director of Maine Historic Preservation Commission.

It was pointed out that Maine is approaching its bicentennial year and only 15 months left for Maine Historical Societies to plan what their observance will be.
